

Spring 2018 Departmental Seminars
3:00 p.m., 1204 Kildee Hall (Ensminger Room)

January 12	Being an Animal Scientist Verses an Animal Science Student- What is the Difference?	Mike Smith
January 19	Age-Dependent Restoration of Intestinal Integrity in Swine	Anthony Blikslager
January 26	Short Reports in the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning	Joshua Selsby Stephine Hansen
February 2	Classifying Foods as Carcinogenic? A Case Study of Red and Processed Meat	Andy Milkowski
February 9	How to be Proactive and Successful if Your Farm is Targeted by Animal Welfare Activists	Anna Johnson
February 16	Two Decades Working In Comparative Medical Genetics	Matthew Ellinwood
February 23	Bridging the Genome and Phenome in Livestock: A Systems Biology Approach	Huaijun Zhou
March 2	Economic Growth in Developing Countries: Value Chains, Clusters, and Business Opportunity in Animal Industry	Martin Webber
March 9	Data Blitz	12 students, 3 minutes each
March 16	NO SEMINAR – SPRING BREAK	-
March 23	What is the Cost-Interrogating Immune Cell Metabolism in Pigs	Crystal Loving
March 30	Genomic Selection: Practical Lessons Learned and Mistakes Made	Matt Spangler
April 6	Understanding the Regulation of Food Intake and Adiposity in Chickens from Lines Selected for Low or High Body Weight	Elizabeth Gilbert
April 13	Genome-Editing Myostatin in Pigs: Effect on Muscle Growth and Meat Quality	Anna Dilger
April 20	TBD	Nick Gabler
April 27	Awards
May 1	FINALS WEEK – NO SEMINAR	