A summer internship is like test driving a car before you buy it. Each summer of your undergraduate degree you have the opportunity to "test drive" a career within animal science. If you love your internship, great! You have gotten your foot in the door with that company. If you decide your internship position isn't your dream career, you have the rest of your undergraduate program to "test drive" other careers!

Advice

I am so thankful for the time I was able to spend at ALCC. The knowledge and experience I gained is absolutely priceless. Coming from a cow/calf background, having this experience in a feedlot setting is essential for me to succeed in the Beef Industry.
